

The Parkinson's community of Quebec meets in Gatineau to share in an experience of hope

Montreal, April 23, 2019 - Parkinson Québec is pleased to organize the 4th edition of its provincial conference Living with Hope, from May 22 to 24, 2019, at the Crowne Plaza Gatineau-Ottawa in Gatineau. It is under the honorary presidency of Dr. Abdallah Tahar, a neurologist specializing in movement disorders at the Neuro-Outaouais Clinic at Hull Hospital, that this must-attend event will take place for the Parkinson community of Quebec.

Focusing primarily on people living with the disease and their caregivers, the event will also be beneficial to health professionals and community counselors through its conferences, workshops and panel presenting the latest findings and contributions. the current issues of Parkinson's disease.

The « Living with Hope » Conference: away from my daily life, I stop time to enjoy this moment of resourcing at my own pace and according to my desires!

The conference will present the latest research and innovations in Parkinson's disease through the presence of several renowned speakers! Among the topics that will be discussed, you will find: cannabis and Parkinson's disease, intracerebral stimulation for Parkinson's disease, support for caregivers. We invite you to consult the complete program of the event by clicking here!

Presented by Diane Patenaude, a woman who has been living with Parkinson's for more than 25 years and the author of several books including the latest issue of "À nous deux Parkinson", the conference will conclude with a discussion panel on the big question: do we have the ability to influence the evolution of Parkinson's disease? An invitation to share personal experiences and small victories on the invasive symptoms of the disease. "After 25 years living with Parkinson's, I'm still 95% independent and 97% happy!" Diane Patenaude.
